COLLINS IS FOUND; BELIEVED DEAD

4 SURGEONS GO DOWN THE SHAFT SEEKING TO REVIVE COLLINS

Workmen Crashed Through Roof of the Cavern Imprisoning Collins and Landed in a Passageway Leading to the Entombed Man

Pick and Shovel Men Work Feverishly to Remove the Debris Which For 17 Days Had Blocked All Attempts at Rescue of Collins

(Special to the Dispatch by United Press)

At the Mouth of Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 16.—Floyd Collins has been found. Apparently he is dead. Up to 3 a. m. central standard time physicians had not examined him.

After more than two weeks of heroic battling with nature in an effort to reach Collins' tomb in a cave of his own discovery workmen finally broke through and came upon Collins' broken body. From the depths of the shaft that had been driven into the rock of Kentucky's hill came the announcement that Collins had been reached. Four physicians were summoned to enter the shaft. Preliminary examination by workers indicated the man was dead.

Soldiers stood at fixed bayonets around the scene of consultation. First word of the discovery, Carmichael said, reached him at 2:45 p. m., central standard time. A fourth physician, Dr. C. C. Howard of Glasgow, joined the others in their inspection trip down the shaft.

Workmen continued to tunnel after the discovery of Collins' body and there was a flow of dirt from the mouth of the shaft as pick and shovel men worked feverishly to remove the debris which for 17 days had blocked Collins' rescue.

Carmichael, Posey, Denhart and Funkhouse gathered to draft a formal report.

TERRIFIC EXCITEMENT PREVAILS AT SHAFT

At the Mouth of Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 16.—An official announcement at the mouth of Sand Cave at 3:45 p. m. today said Floyd Collins had been found.

The announcement said Collins was believed dead. Brigadier General H. H. Denhart, M. E. S. Posey and H. T. Carmichael and Dr. W. D. Funkhouse joined in making the announcement. Doctors have not yet examined Collins, it was announced.

The sudden announcement, coming a few minutes after authorities indicated Collins could not be reached before midnight, brought terrific excitement to the crowd of watchers outside the line of soldiers guarding the shaft.

Persons on the surface were informed that workmen had crashed through the roof of the cavern and landed in a passageway. They walked a few feet further and found Collins, the report said.

Carmichael went down the shaft first to make an inspection trip. A few minutes later Carmichael returned to the surface and summoned three other men. They walked out on the track used by tram cars that carry away the dirt from the mouth of the shaft. After a moment's consultation they walked back toward the mouth of the shaft and Carmichael told reporters:

"We have found Collins and on preliminary investigation believe he is dead."

Doctors C. E. Francis of Bowling Green, Dr. M. M. Moss of the Kentucky State militia and Dr. William H. Hazlett, Chicago surgeon, will go into the shaft to examine Collins, it was announced.

A few moments before this announcement Homer Collins, a brother of the entombed man, had made an effort to enter the rescue pit but had been turned back by militiamen.

LATERAL DRIFT DRIVEN BY A LONE MINER

At the Mouth of Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 16.—One man, working with hand tools in a cramped position at the end of the lateral drift driving toward Floyd Collins, must break his way through five feet of solid rock before the cavern that may hold Collins is reached.

Just as victory seemed to be within the grasp of workmen the fate which has repeatedly blocked their efforts checked their progress again.

It was expected at noon today that pitmen would pierce through to the cavern at any moment. It is doubtful now if they will reach the tomb before evening in the face of this new obstacle.

What they will find at the end of the five-foot tunnel yet to be carved is not known. Pneumatic hammers cannot be brought into play in making the hold because of the vibration they would set up. The narrowness of the bore prevents more than one man working at a time. Workmen expect to strike within 10 feet of Collins.

The communique issued at 12:15 said:

"Progress is favorable, but necessarily slow as rock encountered in the drift of the manhole from the base of the lateral heading into the anticipated cavern is very hard limestone, approximately five feet thick. It is still believed that when this hole is made a close estimate on the time element can be made."

"We will be within two feet of Collins. What obstacles may be encountered in this avenue no one knows, but the nature of the work should be known before dark."

"Progress through the manhole is now a one-man job with hand tools, as pneumatic hammers cannot be used on account of the vibration."

"Last sound tests made between the cave-in and the original tunnel in the face of the tunnel verified former tests much more nearly than before."

AT NOON WITHIN 3 FEET OF COLLINS

At the Mouth of Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 16.—Crunching their way through dry sand and rock, pitmen knew shortly before noon today that they were within three feet of the cavern which probably will lead them to Floyd Collins' trap.

The change of the earth's condition mud to sand indicated their picks were hacking the roof of the cavern they have sought for 17 days.

Each pick plunge was watched expectantly.

The lateral tunnel entered a rock arch which was filled with sandy dirt. Stones in the arch had been cemented by nature.

Workmen asked each other breathlessly if the points of their picks would go through the tunnel. Collins seemed only minutes away.

Feverishly they swung their picks and shovelled dirt and rock away. When the prison yields to their picks the pitmen expect to find themselves at Collins' feet, it will be a matter of a few minutes then until they learn whether or not he lives.

If Collins is alive physicians will administer stimulants and work with him underground until they have exhausted their resources.

Then he will be taken to the shaft mouth and borne up out of the pit to the Red Cross tent.

If Collins is not dead workmen will go to him and the jailer boulder (Continued on Page 3)

The dead are George Stein, 28, his wife, Ida, 30, and their two sons, Harold, 6, and Arthur, 3.

Riding in a sedan, Stein brought his car to a stop at the crossing to let the first section of the New York Central Twentieth Century Limited pass. ### PUBLIC HEARD ON PLAN STATE ORGANIZATION

HOUSE MEMBERS TO HAVE PUBLIC HEARING TONIGHT

SENATORS HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH HOUSE ON PROPOSITION

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Feb. 16.—The public will have its say tonight about the proposed reorganization of the state government.

Efforts were made to have the senate committee on civil administration join with the similar body of the house for the big public hearing tonight as well as subsequently, but the senators decided they would not want anything to do with the house members on the proposition, declining to have joint hearings.

The hearings are expected to continue for about six weeks before the legislature takes any action.

Wednesday night the Senate will hear a new, roundabout way of raising money for highway purposes. The highway commission of the senate is considering a bill providing for issuance of state bonds to redeem county highway construction bonds guaranteed by the state.

About $33,000,000 of these county bonds have been issued and must be redeemed in the next ten years. The state bonds would in turn be redeemed in years to come out of general taxes.

Bus regulation measures will be taken up again Thursday morning before the house committee on railroads and transportation. The corresponding senate committee will consider the bills Thursday afternoon.

Several committees were in session today on minor legislation and local bills.

3 BROTHERS FACE CONTEMPT CHARGE BROUGHT

TRIO CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING TO KEEP ONE OUT OF JAIL

LIQUOR CHARGE GOT ONE IN TROUBLE, ANOTHER SERVING SENTENCE

(By United Press)

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 16.—Three brothers who conspired to keep one of their number out of jail are all facing punishment for contempt of court.

They are Anton, Richard and Geo. Lichy, farmers living in Holding township, Stearns county. Anton was arrested last October on a charge of manufacturing and transporting liquor. He represented himself as Richard Lichy because Richard has a wife and three children and Anton figured it would go easier with him if he posed as a married man. When a clemency plea failed Richard was sentenced to serve three months in jail.

A stay of sentence was granted and the three brothers got together. Richard and Anton induced their brother George to impersonate Richard and he went to jail. He has been serving the sentence. George is reported to have received $75 for his sacrifice.

Authorities learned of the deception and all three were charged with contempt of court. They are scheduled for a hearing here February 24.

INVESTIGATE THE DEATH OF JUDGE McGEE

FOUND DEAD FROM A BULLET WOUND IN VAULT OF HIS OFFICE

FAILING HEALTH CAUSED THE ACT, POLICE BELIEVE

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Feb. 16.—An investigation was started today into the death of Judge John F. McGee, United States district judge of Minnesota, who was found dead from a bullet wound in the vault of his office in the Federal building yesterday. There was a revolver in the jurist's hand and police believe it a case of suicide.

Judge McGee was known for his severity with violators of the liquor and drug laws. He imposed the full penalty on persons found guilty in his court.

Failing health caused the act, police believe. Judge McGee left a note saying that he was losing his memory.

Many times in the past year he has received anonymous letters threatening him with death from friends of criminals sentenced by him and victims of his sentences are believed to have written them.

Members of Judge McGee's family held to the belief that the jurist was murdered. They refused to believe the police theory that he took his own life, in spite of the circumstances.

Recently Judge McGee has felt that his strength was waning.

Sunday morning he left his home for the office, telling his daughter he had some important work to do. When he failed to return within a few hours the girl went to the building and with the help of the custodian gained entrance. After a brief search the body was found. A coroner's investigation will be made late today.

Judge F. McGee was born in Amboy, Ill., a son of Henry and Margaret Heenan McGee. He was born January 1, 1861.

Judge McGee was admitted to the bar in Illinois in 1882 when he was 21 years old, in spite of the fact that he had no college degree. Then he moved to Devils Lake, N. D., subsequently going to Minneapolis, where he became corporation counsel, district attorney, Federal fuel administrator for Minnesota and member of the state public safety commission. Judge McGee was appointed to the federal bench in Minnesota by President Harding in 1923. His confirmation by the senate was bitterly opposed by the LaFollette group.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at noon today.

PROBING AUTHORSHIP OF THREATENING LETTERS

Minneapolis, Feb. 16.—The United States department of justice today began an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death of Federal Judge John Franklin McGee, whose body was found in his office Sunday afternoon by his daughter Dorothy. N. J. Johannes, Federal agent, said he was probing the authorship of several letters received by Judge McGee threatening his life.

Judge McGee had given maximum sentences to bootleggers and narcotic law violators in almost every case before him in the past year.

Johannes intends to learn positively whether Judge McGee killed himself with the revolver held in his hand at death. He also intends to learn positively whether Judge McGee wrote the note found on the desk, in which the jurist said he felt he was losing his health and felt that his memory was failing him.

The coroner and police hold Judge McGee a suicide.

It is not likely that an inquest will be held.

Even if the investigation proves

According to Dr. Curtis Welch, sole physician in charge of the fight to control the disease, more serum is on the way and the supply on hand is sufficient to take care of any cases which may arise within the next few days. Light quarantine restrictions are still in force.

F. W. UPHAM, REPUBLICAN NATL. TREASURER, DIED

CEREBRAL STROKE WHILE AT PALM BEACH, FLORIDA CAUSED DEMISE

HAD GONE TO SOUTHERN RESORT TO RECUPERATE FROM CAMPAIGN

(By United Press)

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 16.—The body of Frederick W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee for six years, will be shipped today to his home in Chicago. Upham died here Sunday from the effects of a cerebral stroke. He was 64 years old.

Upham came to Palm Beach last June shortly after his resignation as treasurer of the Republican national committee on account of ill health.

Upham was born in Racine, Wis., January 29, 1861. He started his business career with the Upham Manufacturing company in Marshfield, Wis., in 1880. Major William H. Upham, president of the company was governor of Wisconsin from 1895 to 1899. In 1849 Frederick Upham came to Chicago and organized the Frederick W. Upham Lumber company. In 1918 he was elected treasurer of the Republican national committee and served until 1924. He declined re-election, but served as national committeeman from Illinois and once during the World War Upham was a member of the state board of defense. Ill health forced him to abandon business activities some time ago.

beyond a doubt that the judge committed suicide Johannes intends to bring to prosecution every person found guilty of writing the anonymous letters, thought to be under-world characters. He believes that these letters preyed on the judge's mind.

SAY THEY WILL STOP ALL KIND OF LEGISLATION

AIM TO STOP THE MUSCLE SHOALS CONFERENCE REPORT

CAPE COD CANAL BILL, BURSUM BILL FOR ARMY OFFICERS

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 16.—A threat to stop all legislation was made by Senate filibusters today as Congress moved into the last two weeks of its session. With only two appropriation bills pending, opponents of the remaining measures on the republican legislative program made known their intentions of utilizing every possible parliamentary subterfuge to stop the Muscle Shoals conference report, the Cape Cod canal bill and the Bursum bill for retirement of World War army officers.

Senator Curtis, republican leader, would like to placate filibusters by a compromise by which all three of the measures in question would be dropped for this session. The champions of the bills, however, are unwilling to do that.

Senator Butler, Massachusetts republican, feels that he has a majority in favor of the Cape Cod canal bill. Senator Bursum, New Mexico republican, thinks he has a two-thirds majority behind his officers' retirement bill and Senator Underwood, Alabama democrat, believes he has a majority favoring the Muscle Shoals bill.

Both Curtis and Underwood, fearing further strife on pending Muscle Shoals legislation, are unwilling to force the issue. They believe that any attempt to force action on the bill would cause an insurrection, even in their own ranks. This is the time in the session when every senator has a few minor bills which he wishes to get through and anyone who forces a filibuster is exceedingly unpopular, they believe.

Then, further complicating matters, the president's cabinet nominations are pending, and a fight is feared on the nominations of Charles B. Warren to be attorney-general, W. E. Humphrey to be a member of the Federal Trade commission and Thos. F. Woodlock to be a member of the Interstate Commerce commission.

WIFE'S BODY LAY MONTHS IN CHICKEN COOP

HUSBAND AND SON OF MRS. F. WINTERBERG KEPT HER DEATH SECRET

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Feb. 16.—For five months the body of Mrs. Frank Winterberg, aged wife of a Dakota county farmer, has lain concealed in a chicken coop back of the home.

Her husband and son William kept the secret until today. Neighbors, suspecting foul play, reported her absence to authorities, who found the body.

W. H. Meeker, deputy county coroner, began an investigation. Both husband and son declare the woman, 50 years old, died of natural causes last October and that they placed her body in the chicken coop.

The son was sent to the county jail in Hastings and will be examined by alienists. The father was taken to the University hospital. He will be treated for cancer of the face.

INVESTIGATE THE DEATH OF JUDGE MCGEE

FOUND DEAD FROM A BULLET WOUND IN VAULT OF HIS OFFICE

FAILING HEALTH CAUSED THE ACT, POLICE BELIEVE

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Feb. 16.—An investigation was started today into the death of Judge John F. Nome, Alaska, Feb. 16.—No further danger is anticipated in Nome from the diphtheria epidemic, following the arrival Sunday of the second consignment of anti-toxin from Anchorage.

According to Dr. Curtis Welch, sole physician in charge of the fight to control the disease, more serum is on the way and the supply on hand is sufficient to take care of any cases which may arise within the next few days. Light quarantine restrictions are still in force.

F. W. UPHAM, REPUBLICAN NATL. TREASURER, DIED

CEREBRAL STROKE WHILE AT PALM BEACH, FLORIDA CAUSED DEMISE

HAD GONE TO SOUTHERN RESORT TO RECOVERATE FROM CAMPAIGN

(By United Press)
Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 16.—The body of Frederick W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee for six years, will be shipped today to his home in Chicago. Upham died here Sunday from the effects of a cerebral stroke. He was 64 years old.

Upham came to Palm Beach last June shortly after his resignation as treasurer of the Republican national committee on account of ill health.

Upham was born in Racine, Wis., January 29, 1861. He started his business career with the Upham Manufacturing company in Marshfield, Wis., in 1880. Major William H. Upham, president of the company was governor of Wisconsin from 1895 to 1899. In 1849 Frederick Upham came to Chicago and organized the Frederick W. Upham Lumber company. In 1918 he was elected treasurer of the Republican national committee and served until 1924. He declined re-election, but served as national committeeman from Illinois and once during the World War Upham was a member of the state board of defense. Ill health forced him to abandon business activities some time ago.

SAY THEY WILL STOP ALL KIND OF LEGISLATION

AIM TO STOP THE MUSCLE SHOALS CONFERENCE REPORT

CAPE COD CANAL BILL, BURSUM BILL FOR ARMY OFFICERS

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 16.—A threat to stop all legislation was made by Senate filibusters today as Congress moved into the last two weeks of its session. With only two appropriation bills pending, opponents of the remaining measures on the republican legislative program made known their intentions of utilizing every possible parliamentary subterfuge to stop the Muscle Shoals conference report, the Cape Cod canal bill and the Bursum bill for retirement of World War army officers.

Senator Curtis, republican leader, would like to placate filibusters by a compromise by which all three of the measures in question would be dropped for this session. The champions of the bills, however, are unwilling to drop them.

Senator Butler, Massachusetts republican, feels that he has a majority in favor of the Cape Cod canal bill. Senator Bursum, New Mexico republican, thinks he has a two-thirds majority behind his officers' retirement bill and Senator Underwood, Alabama democrat, believes he has a majority favoring the Muscle Shoals bill.

Both Curtis and Underwood, fearing further strife on pending Muscle Shoals legislation, are unwilling to force the issue. They believe that any attempt to force action on the bill would cause an insurrection, even in their own ranks. This is the time in the session when every senator has a few minor bills which he wishes to get through and anyone who forces a filibuster is exceedingly unpopular, they believe.

Then, further complicating matters, the president's cabinet nominations are pending, and a fight is feared on the nominations of Charles B. Warren to be attorney-general, W. E. Humphrey to be a member of the Federal Trade commission and Thos. F. Woodlock to be a member of the Interstate Commerce commission.

WIFE'S BODY LAY MONTHS IN CHICKEN COOP

HUSBAND AND SON OF MRS. F. WINTERBERG KEPT HER DEATH SECRET

SON TO BE EXAMINED BY ALIENISTS, FATHER SENT TO HOSPITAL

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 16.—For five months the body of Mrs. Frank Winterberg, aged wife of a Dakota county farmer, has lain concealed in a chicken coop back of the home.

Her husband and son William kept the secret until today. Neighbors, suspecting foul play, reported her absence to authorities, who found the body.

W. H. Meeker, deputy county coroner, began an investigation. Both husband and son declare the woman, 80 years old, died of natural causes last October and that they placed her body in the chicken coop.

The son was sent to the county jail in Hastings and will be examined by alienists. The father was taken to the University hospital. He will be treated for cancer of the face.

The al borak was a marvelous animal of surpassing swiftness on which Mohammed is said to have made a nocturnal journey from the temple at Mecca to Jerusalem and thence to the seventh heaven, under the guidance of the angel Gabriel. Its eyes were like stars, and its body was resplendent with precious stones. It had the wings of an eagle, and a human face with the cheeks of a horse. According to Mohammedan faith the al borak is one of the few animals admitted to heaven.—Kansas City Star.

COLLINS IS FOUND; BELIEVED DEAD

will be slowly and cautiously moved. If he is dead the advance to the point where his leg can be released will be more rapid.

Once out of the cavern the body will be lifted on the waiting platform to the arms of loving kin, who through endless days and nights have awaited word in the rescue camp.

EXPECT TO FIND COLLINS AT NOON

At the Mouth of Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 16.—Floyd Collins should be delivered from his underground prison in Sand Cave by noon today. That was the statement of Brigadier General James A. Kehoe, adjutant-general of the state of Kentucky, issued at 7:30 a. m.

One possibility remained, the general pointed out, that a rescue within the specified time could not be effected. An error in the calculations on which the engineering of the rescue shaft is based might not lead the pit directly to the cavern in which Collins has been imprisoned for 17 days.

Careful Calculations Made

The calculations, the general said, have been made so carefully that he believes there is slight chance of error.

The rescue shaft, the engineers figured, would terminate at 80 feet in the cavern which Collins reported he had discovered in the end of his narrow crawl just before he was trapped.

This approach would have enabled them to free him from the boulder if he is still pinioned by it without climbing over his body, which they would have had to do had they attempted to tunnel through directly to reach the mouth of Sand Cave.

Much progress was made during the night, General Kehoe said, into the latest shaft branching from the base of the rescue pit. It now extends toward the cavern.

The original estimate of the engineers was that this shaft would have to be drifted 15 feet laterally and then six feet straight down to hit the cavern. The lateral digging is being done at an angle which will bring the shaft to an end about six feet lower than originally estimated.

Official Communique

The official communique issued at 8 o'clock reads:

"The progress on the lateral tunnel last night was very encouraging, and at a distance of 12 feet from the main shaft an attempt is being made to break the limestone roof of the drift vertically into the cavern, existence of which was determined by the core drill log.

"Much trouble was encountered in the last five feet of heading and falls were numerous, but it is well timbered and considered safe.

"Indications are that sand will be found in the avenue which will facilitate work, but progress from then forward will necessarily be slow, as material has to be relayed through a narrow passage from man to man in buckets to the main shaft.

"It is thought that the avenue referred to above is an extension or branch of the original Sand Cave channel in which Collins lies and that the rescue party cannot be more than 10 feet from him.

"However, as conditions are such that it requires an hour's time for the removal of one cubic yard of material from the face of the heading in buckets to the shaft, immediate results in reaching Collins must not be expected.

"It is felt that the most serious obstacles have been surmounted and that it is now only a question of cubic yards and time until Collins is reached."

The communique was signed by H. T. Carmichael, general superintendent of operations, General H. H. Denhart, and M. E. S. Posey.

First Aid Prepared

When the shaft breaks down to Collins' rocky tomb, three physicians, selected by Brigadier General Denhart, the Collins family and M. E. S. Posey, representative of Governor Fields of Kentucky, will be lowered to Collins.

If they find that he still clings to life after 17 days of exposure and starvation in his underground prison, they will give him first aid in the cavern.

In this case Collins will not be brought up until the doctors have done all they can for him, lest what little strength remains in his body be spent.

A platform made of two by four planks will be dropped into the shaft to place Collins on and the derrick boom which has raised the dirt from

The pit will hoist him to the surface. Physicians say that if Collins is alive he must be brought up in a recumbent position to relieve him of all possible strain.

He will be taken to a surgeons' tent near the shaft for medical treatment if alive and then as soon as conditions permit, to a hospital in Louisville.

If the explorer is dead county authorities will return a formal verdict on his death.

FASHIONS FOR LATE WINTER; EARLY SPRING

By HEDDA KOYT
(Fashion Editor of the United Press)
(Written for the United Press)

New York, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Young women at southern resorts are favoring short, double-breasted jackets cut on mannish lines, to be worn with plain or pleated shirts. Materials for these jackets include velvet as well as mannish weaves. The top button is worn unfastened, permitting the revers to roll fairly low. Several girls have appeared in navy blue models fashioned after the yachting jacket, trimmed with brass buttons. These are worn with white skirts.

Printed silks are in vogue again as spring advances. Jabots and gilets trim most of them and give an effect of solid color.

Some of the new spring hats are faced with pastel-hued velvet, in keeping with the shade used in the crown and upper brim. Light fushia velvet, for instance, faces the more vivid fushia toned straw bonnet.

One of the most youthful winter sports jumpers is made of bright colored material and finished with a band of white fur about the hips. The fur also forms the upstanding collar which fastens in front, thus permitting the jumper to slip on over the head. For skating or skiing purposes this jumper is extremely attractive.

The home dressmaker is pinning her faith to the flowered silk frock which has an accompanying coat of plain material lined in the same material as the frock. The coat is straight-lined and covers the hem of the frock.

The front of the skirt is the location for trimming this season. Sports frocks use inverted pleats down the front while dressier frocks use finely-pleated godets, embroidery, and various methods of trimming. Sometimes the tunic is left open in front displaying an embroidered panel on the underslip.

Flannel will be the most popular material for sports wear this Spring. Both plain and striped flannels are used, but preference is for plain materials, piped or banded in contrasting colors. Yellow flannel has been the popular shade chosen for Southern resort wear.

The girls of Wellesley College have taken over the fad set by men in colleges, the wearing of the checkered lumberman's shirt. Bright green and black checks and red and black checks are the favored color combination. The skirts are cut to about the hems to give a straight-about line and are worn over the skirt as is the middie blouse.

Just as we were presuming that the flapper had gone, the snow came along and girls came out in goloshes, racoon coats and untrimmed felts. They bear a striking resemblance to the flapper of a season or so ago. However, the goloshes are not left unbuttoned and flapping in the breezes, but are turned down in tricky cuff effect which makes the ankle appear smaller.

Among the new house and porch dresses are the overall aprons which are worn over separate blouses or with attached bib and sleeves of contrasting colors. Those which most resemble the overall are made of navy blue cotton material with straps extending over the shoulders, patch pockets and a stitched belt. Usually they are worn with the simple blouse with turndown collar and bow tie.

Many frocks this season button down the front from the collar to hem with a jabot of contrasting material extending from collar to below the waistline. Long sleeves and high necks with torndown collars accentuate the tailored effect.

February 18

The Hamline Players, a group of students from Hamline University, St. Paul, will present Austin Strong's comedy, "Three Wise Fools," Wednesday evening, February 18th at 8 P. M. in the First M. E. church.

"Three Wise Fools," has enjoyed immense popularity on the stage and the silver screen. In recent years, and the actors from the St. Paul college under the direction of Prof. George William Smith of the Hamline Faculty, give it a pleasing interpretation. When a young slip of a girl, 18 years old, comes into the lives of three old bachelors—comes to live in their otherwise staid and quiet household, in fact—some interesting changes are bound to occur. How the three get out of the rut, how their whole interest centers in her, these are the themes of the play.

Then there appears—which is the old but ever new story. A young man who makes love to her.

'WEAKER SEX' MYTH, WOMAN EXECUTIVE IN WALL ST. SAYS

New York, Feb. 16.—There is no "weaker sex" in the business world today, and an ambitious woman, even if she is married and has children, can have a successful career if she so desires.

That's the opinion of Mrs. William Laimbeer, former society woman and mother of three children, who in 12 years has climbed from an unimportant clerkship to Wall street executive. "If a woman is a good manager she can keep her home in order, give her children the proper care and still be successful in business," Mrs. Laimbeer says.

"What many women lack is ambition. One must have plenty of that. Some women will tell you there's no use of their trying to succeed in business because of the prejudice against the female of the species. Frankly, I can say that in all my 12 years' experience I have received the same treatment that would be accorded a man in my position, and I am utterly convinced this so-called prejudice is purely mythical."

There is an instance, recorded some time ago, of the late poet James Whitcomb Riley's experience, when some strange impulse drew him out of bed and prompted him to write his poem "Bereaved," the simple story of the death of a little child. At the time, Riley had no knowledge that the child of any one in whom he was interested was even seriously ill. He could not imagine why this insistent thought should have come to him. But in his mail a few days later came a letter from his old friend Bill Nye, announcing the death of one of his children on the very night that the strange call to write had come to the poet.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says Glass of Salts Help to Overcome Rheumatism Acid

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Advt.

Poet's Odd Experience

There is an instance, recorded some time ago, of the late poet James Whitcomb Riley's experience, when some strange impulse drew him out of bed and prompted him to write his poem "Bereaved," the simple story of the death of a little child. At the time, Riley had no knowledge that the child of any one in whom he was interested was even seriously ill. He could not imagine why this insistent thought should have come to him. But in his mail a few days later came a letter from his old friend Bill Nye, announcing the death of one of his children on the very night that the strange call to write had come to the poet.

EAT NO SWEETS

Says Glass of Salts Help to Overcome Rheumatism

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Advt.

MOTHER GOOSE ATTACKED

EVERY child knows Mother Goose, reads her rhymes, scans her pictures. When we were out East last year we saw her grave in a cemetery in the heart of Boston's business district. The venerable sexton pointed out the little mound and the marker stated plainly "Mother Goose." Her grave attracts as much attention as that of any colonial governor or other revolutionary hero, including the tea party men.

Recently Dr. Winifred Sackville Stoner, president of the National Education forum debated with Henry Hull, the actor, and the topic was Mother Goose. Stoner levied a severe indictment of the old lady, giving utterance to this bill of particulars:

"Little Jack Horner" teaches bad manners, because, no doubt, of the frequent use of his thumb in exploring plum pies. "Higgledy Piggledy, My Black Hen," continued the professor, is utter foolishness. "Rockabye Baby on the Tree Top" keeps children awake at night. "Old King Cole" is anti-prohibition argument and propaganda. "Tom, Tom the Piper's Son," teaches children to steal pigs.

It is a wonder that Mother Goose didn't stir in her grave at Boston. Henry Hull, the actor, gifted with wonderful humanity and a lover of children and understanding their capacity for the mystical and fanciful, said plainly and most emphatically: "I fail to remember a single crime that I committed under the good old lady's influence. 'Tom, Tom the Piper's Son' did not make a pig thief out of me. Lot of things are taken away from us as we grow older. Does Dr. Stoner want to take our fanciful memories of childhood too?"

And another point, if aesthetic and literary and historical Boston reveres the memory of the good old lady and thus puts the seal of approval on her immortal rhymes, why should some iconoclasts upstart, as it were, attempt to tear down her writings and cast aspersions on her point of view. We believe in Mother Goose and we the little child that has not had the opportunity to read her rhymes, to follow the various adventures, to mourn with Mother Hubbard, to rejoice with Jack Horner, to sigh vainly for a ride on the cow which jumped over the moon.

PAUL REVERE'S RIDE

It is with keen pleasure that we anticipate seeing "America." While attending the Elks national convention in Boston last year, friends took us out in a flivver and with that as a trusty, modern steed we covered every foot of Paul Revere's famous ride.

Tablets, markers, monuments, etc., mark the route. At Charlestown bridge one sees a large bronze tablet imbedded in the foundation of the bridge, giving the exact spot where Revere started his ride. One sails in the bay and accommodating sailors point out the Old North church off shore. One tours in busses and announcers are particular to point out the church and detail its whole history.

Every phase of history has been preserved by Boston. Streets bend their way about Revolutionary shrines. Burying places dating back before the Revolution nestle undisturbed in hallowed ground in the shadow of huge office buildings.

"Old Ironsides" rides proudly at anchor and gains more attention than the smartest warship occupying the roadstead. To search and examine these various historical points in Boston is just like thumbing the leaves of American history.

One walks up the slopes of Bunker Hill and well kept lawns grace the terrace. Caretakers point out just where the battle line extended and markers define where the columns rested and faced the British battalions.

And modern days have not been forgotten. High school yards bear shafts of marble carrying the honor roll of boys who fell in their country's service. The "State House" with its gilded dome houses the battle flags, from the earliest days to the recent world war.

AFTER reading R. R. Wise's WCCO radio speech of January 30, says the Deerwood Times editorially, we have come to the conclusion that he's not only a big booster for the Ten Thousand Lakes association, but he is also somewhat of a poet in prose.

ARTHUR E. NELSON, mayor of St. Paul, says economy is of two kinds; constructive and destructive. Constructive economy demands going on with the good roads work, he says, and destructive economy would mean to halt the highway program.

THE first step in practicing thrift, says the Little Falls Daily Transcript, is to place yourself on a cash basis and operate on one. The man who owes money and is continually increasing his debts has little chance of becoming thrifty.

A WHITE LEGHORN hen near Pillager is reported to have laid an egg that measures six and one-fourth by eight and one-half inches and weighed one-fourth of a pound. A whole meal for a small family.

HENRY FORD's proteges should show more amicable spirit. In a recent accident at Little Falls a Lincoln collided with a Ford and the high priced car got the full brunt of the collision.

THE Spooner News, published by Mr. and Mrs. George Ericson, has been sold to William T. Noonan of the Baudette Region and the two papers will be consolidated after April 1.

SMALL pilferers, or in other words sneak thieves, are very busy in Anoka and bothering thrifty housewives. The thieves have even taken to robbing the toy banks of babies.

MISTAKES will happen. St. Paul Daily News ran a picture of Pershing in civilian clothes labelled "Reives Appointment to Agricultural Post, William M. Jardine."

OVERWORK undoubtedly contributed to the death of Judge John F. McGee, widely known federal jurist. In his ardor to serve he sacrificed himself to duty.

THE Orient against the Occident seems to be the impression gained when one reads reports of an alleged treaty planned by Russia, Japan and China.

RELIEF FROM LIQUOR LAW

SOME THINK THE STATE HAS OVER-REACHED SELF IN MATTER

CHARGE "COMMERCIALIZATION OF PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT"

(By United Press)

Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—Having gone the federal government one better in making a prohibition law, Ohio, is now looking into her enforcement methods to see whether she has over-reached herself.

The home state of the anti-saloon league is no place for laxity. When the state prohibition law finally came, it delegated such wide powers to village justices and so-called "special enforcement agents" that the "little fellows" are making small fortunes off the bootleggers and the municipal and county courts are virtually deserted of liquor cases.

Unofficially a controversy has arisen between the "big fellows" and the "little fellows" over the spoils of prohibition.

The state legislature, now in session, has taken cognizance of the situation and is considering several bills designed to limit the jurisdiction of justices to their own communities. This would cut the wide range of their power materially and through such legislation agents of suburban justice courts would be prohibited from raiding the homes of residents in nearby cities.

The state bar association and the municipal and common pleas judges of the state have gone on record against the alleged "commercialization of prohibition enforcement" by the village justices.

But the practices of the rural courts are authorized by law and until the law is changed the practices will continue.

Friends of the state prohibition statute maintain that without this wide delegation of power the law could not be enforced as the state prohibition department has only 20 agents.

Thus far the operation of the law has in many cases proved to be a boomerang. Mayors and justices courts have employed numerous agents on a fee-splitting basis and the result has been commercialization.

A recent report on the activities of two justice courts in small villages in Lucas county showed annual incomes for single courts from liquor fines and fees of more than $100,000. The bulk of the fees went to the arresting agents and the justices and the fines into the village coffers.

In this way many communities have built schools, improved roads and erected imposing city buildings with money collected as fines from wealthy residents of nearby cities.

In East Liverpool a new development arose recently when dry agents of East Liverpool and Wellston carried on a war of reprisal, raiding homes in each other's communities. The affair lasted for more than a week with Wellston agents spending all their times raiding homes and business houses in East Liverpool and East Liverpool agents doing the same in Wellston. Persons arrested in Wellston were tried in East Liverpool and persons arrested in East Liverpool were tried in Wellston.

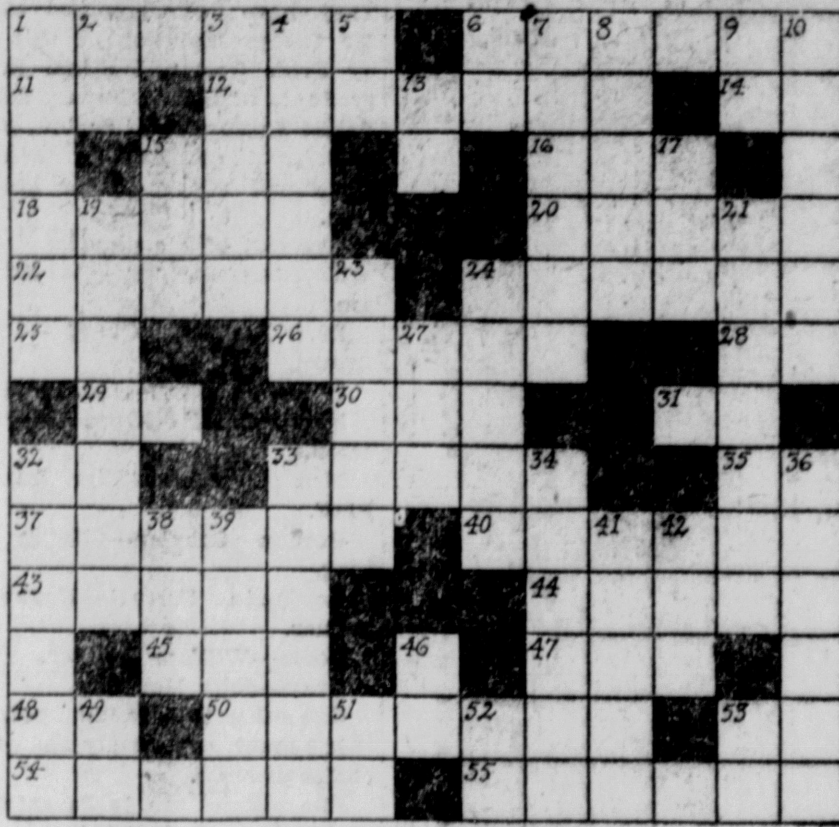

Several reports of state investigators are on file in the state auditor's

If Mozart could hear "The Magic Flute" on a FADA Neutrodyne

—his trained ear would approve the tonal fidelity to the original in his famous old opera. The peculiar charm of this woodwind instrument is caught in all its purity by the famous Fada Neutrodyne. With equal tonal truth, Fada reproduces the deep rolling bass of the pipe-organ.

The Fada Neutrodyne has the range of the 88-key pianoforte. McCormack's pure tenor, Bori's delicious soprano, create the illusion of standing beside the actual artists when you hear them on a Fada set. Bass and baritone voices are reproduced with equal fidelity. Nor does Fada create those raucous distortions that have kept many discriminating folks from investing in radio.

Novel! Educational! Entertaining! Every Housewife Eligible!

This is as novel, educational and simple a contest as was ever conducted. There are no special restrictions or perplexing features about this contest. All you have to do is to write a letter telling us how you do your ironing and why you prefer doing it in that particular way. Maybe you do it yourself, send it to the laundry, have it done by your regular servants, or hire a laundress to do it for you. Regardless of the methods used, everyone has an equal opportunity to win one of these attractive prizes. Circumstances differ in different homes and the ironing methods naturally differ to meet the circumstances. Also different problems present themselves in different homes. Just sit down and tell us about the circumstances that prevail in your home, the ironing problems that you have to contend with and the method you use to overcome them.

The letters reproduced elsewhere on this page are examples of what other housewives have written on this subject. Read what they have to say on their ironing problems and methods, choose the one which most closely reflects your own circumstances, then write your own. Remember, your letter doesn't have to be a masterpiece. Tell your story in your own way. Your letter will be judged by the method you use to overcome your ironing problems and whether or not it is the best method for the conditions prevailing in your home. Remember, this contest costs nothing to enter except a two-cent postage stamp, and your opportunity to win is not limited, no matter who you are or where you live.

Rules and Conditions for Contest

All you have to do is write an interesting letter on the subject of home ironing, and your letter will be judged accordingly. The only rules governing this contest are as follows:

1. Letters must be written in ink on plain white paper, on one side of the sheet only, and must not exceed 150 words.
2. Each letter should be sent by first class mail, postage prepaid. Entries with insufficient postage will be returned by the post-office department.
3. Each contestant is entitled to write one letter only.
4. Letters must be addressed to the Contest Judge, Kelley-Duluth Company, 6 E. Superior St., Duluth, Minnesota.
5. Name and address must be written clearly and in full.
6. Letters will not be returned. We reserve the right to publish letters.
7. The judge's decision of winners will be final. In case of ties, a duplicate award will be given each tying contestant.

The following letters are given as suggestions to aid you in writing yours!

Gentlemen: I have been keeping house for over twenty years, and during that time I have tried only two different methods of doing my ironing.

When I first started keeping house, I did the entire washing and ironing myself, but after the family increased to four, I found I could not keep up my housework as it should be done, by myself. I hired a laundress for two days each week to do the washing and ironing. This method proved too expensive for a family of moderate means such as ours, so I then tried sending the washing out and doing the ironing myself. I am still doing the ironing in this method. I use an electric hand iron, and it takes me about four or five hours to do my regular weekly ironing.

Yours very truly,

Gentlemen: We are a family of seven; the oldest child is 15 years of age. All of the children are in school, and since we are very poor, I do the entire washing and ironing myself. My ironing takes me an entire day, and sometimes my oldest girl helps me finish in the evening after school. I use the old style sadirons, which I heat on our gas range. I sprinkle the clothes the night before, and roll them up tightly and put them in the laundry basket. After the children have all gone to school, I start ironing the large flat pieces, and end up with the smaller pieces, which take more time and care, such as ruffled children's dresses, waists, shirts, etc. These are then folded carefully, and in the evening the children pick their own clothes out, and put them away.

I realize that there are more modern and efficient ways of doing one's ironing, but I never felt that I could afford the new appliances.

Yours very truly,

Gentlemen: My husband is a man who believes in all modern conveniences for the home, as well as for his office, and consequently I do my ironing with a Simplex Ironer.

There are only three of us in the family, so I have the small kitchen model. I thought at first that this method would not be economical for such a small family, but after trying it for a while, I found that I could not get along without it, and the time and labor that it saves has more than paid for the cost of the ironer. I iron the large pieces, such as tablecloths and sheets, first, and finish with the smaller pieces, such as napkins, handkerchiefs, shirts and collars. I am thoroughly convinced that this is the best method of doing the weekly ironing, as I have tried sending it out to several different laundries, and have also hired laundresses to come to my home and do it, but from now on I shall always do it myself on my Junior Simplex.

Very truly yours,

Gentlemen: It has always been my custom to have a laundress come in once a week to do my washing and ironing. Inasmuch as there are only two of us in the family, the entire week's washing and ironing can be done in one day. The laundress has the washing finished before noon, and after lunch the smaller and lighter weight pieces are dry enough to be ironed.

In sending clothes to a laundry, there is always the possibility that something will get lost, or mixed with someone else's laundry, so I prefer having the ironing done at home.

I consider a capable laundress the only solution to the washing and ironing problem, as it relieves the housewife of all the work and responsibility.

Yours truly,

Gentlemen: Since I have been keeping house, which is only a matter of a few months, I have done my own washing and ironing. I do not feel that the small amount of washing that we have each week would warrant my hiring a laundress. I have arranged a plan whereby I do the washing in the morning of one day and the ironing the morning of the next day. In this way I do not overtax my strength, and I have the rest of the day for mending, shopping, etc. I use an electric iron. I have often noticed the advertisements regarding the new electrical appliances that are now on the market but, to me, they seem unnecessary in a home where the laundry duties are so light.

Yours truly,

Gentlemen: At the time my children were attending school, I always did my own washing and ironing. In those days I used the old-fashioned irons that had to be heated on the gas range. In later years these irons were replaced by an iron with a hose attachment that could be connected with the gas jet. Still later, the electric iron took the place of the gas iron.

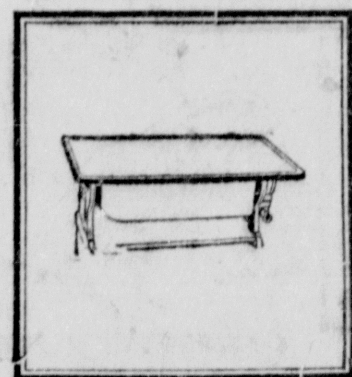

For the last seven or eight years, although there have only been two of us at home, my children all being married and having homes of their own, I have been having my washing and ironing done at the laundry, as I feel I haven't the strength to do it myself. This is the most satisfactory method for my present needs, as everything comes back from the laundry fresh and clean, and neatly folded, and I am saved all that strenuous work.

Yours truly,

HIBBING GREETINGS DISTRICT ROTARY ON APRIL 23, 24

"HIBBING IS YOURS" IS SLOGAN
ADOPTED FOR CON-VENTION

NINTH DISTRICT ROTARY CON- FERENCE TO BE HELD IN ORE CAPITOL

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 16—"Hibbing is Yours" for the ninth district Rotary conference, which will be held on April 23 and 24.

This is the slogan adopted by the Hibbing Rotarians in their efforts to make the April conference one of the biggest held in the Northwest.

Present indications are that the Hibbing meeting will break all conference attendance records. Reservations for the conference are already coming in.

The committee on accommodations announced today that there will be hotel room for everybody and although the railroads will provide sleepers, they may not be necessary as the hotel space in the ore capitol is ample enough to provide for a crowd of 2,000 people.

Since last December the general committees on the conference under the direction of A. C. Shriver have been working on the details. It has been a huge task but progress has been made and when the conference opens, Hibbing will be ready to show the Rotarians of North Dakota, Minnesota and Superior, Wisconsin, the greatest time of their lives.

The Speakers

The speakers engaged include men big in Rotary. Judge Martin Hughes, dean of court judges in Northern Minnesota, will be one of the speakers. Mayor John Gannon will welcome the guests. Edward F. Flynn, district governor, will preside. He will head the big Twin City delegation.

Paul King, director of Rotary International, will be one of the big away-from-home speakers. Clare Wildner, another big man in Rotary, is on the program, as is Herg Laffin, district governor from Madison, Wis.

Other speakers will be announced within a few weeks.

The Entertainment

The entertainment will be enjoyed by every Rotarian and his wife, Miss Nora Fauchald, lyric soprano, with Sousa's band, will be one of the headliners. James A. Gillette, Carleton College organist, will feature several organ recitals. The Hibbing High School Orchestra will play. The Great Northern Quartette, from St. Paul, is coming.

The General Program

Thursday morning, on the opening of the conference, at the three million dollar Hibbing High School, one of the finest equipped community buildings in the northwest, the "Americanization Pageant" will be staged. It will be a history of the Mesaba Range, showing the steps whereby the Mesaba Range grew from its baby days to a modern metropolis. A class in naturalization and Americanization will graduate with appropriate ceremonies. This should be one of the inspiring features of the convention. The pageant is under the direction of the Hibbing Public Schools.

On Thursday evening the banquet will be held. This will be the gala event of the conference. Decorations for the occasion will be the most beautiful ever arranged at a district conference, the committee contends. On Friday afternoon there will be a trip through the mines, on flat cars, provided by the Oliver Iron Mining Co.

In addition to the above named features there will be a parade with several bands in line with Rotary clubs from the entire district participating. Visits to neighboring lakes and points of interest have been planned.

There will be plenty of entertainment for the ladies, including several programs, teas and receptions. The complete program will be announced within a few days.

Norma Shearer Appears With Her Favorite as Fan

Norma Shearer is having the opportunity to do something that would make any real movie fan turn green with envy. That is to play opposite her favorite leading man in a motion picture production.

Not so very long ago Miss Shearer was a fan herself. It was during her school days in Montreal, Canada, and she spent much time going to motion picture theatres. One day she saw a picture which she liked tremendously and she especially liked ed the young man who was playing the leading male role. She saw him again on the screen and noted his name was Conrad Nagel.

In "Excuse Me," Rupert Hughes' new production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which is now showing at the Lyceum Theatre, she plays the part of Marjorie Newton, and he is cast as Harry Mallory. The story was adapted by Rupert Hughes from his stage play and with Miss Shearer and Conrad Nagel playing the roles of the newlyweds, makes one of the finest screen comedies ever shown here. See it by all means tonight.

Unearthing the Revolution's Real Villain

Who was the greatest villain of the War of Independence?

No, contrary to the general belief, it was not Benedict Arnold, the traitor, but Walter Butler, the Tory.

Such was the conclusion of the staff of research experts which delved deep into Revolutionary history, into historical data, and even into private diaries of the period to get the authentic facts for "America," the romantic photodrama of the Revolution which D. W. Griffith produced, and which will be presented at the New Park tonight and Tuesday, at regular prices.

Traitor to his country though he was, Benedict Arnold had, previous to his act of treachery, fought bravely. History shows him to have been a man weak but tender, a man who could fight fairly, a man endowed with a goodly stock of what is known as "humanity."

But none of the saving graces vouchsafed by history to Arnold are conferred on Butler. Indeed, one historian, and a contemporary one, eye witness to some of the horrors perpetrated by Butler—declares categorically that Butler was a man "without a single redeeming trait."

It was Butler who advised the British securing the Indians as allies, and who, in order to accomplish this, when the peaceably inclined redskins declined to go on the warpath against the settlers, goaded them into it by massacring whole families of Indians and blaming the deed on the Americans.

It was Butler who gave the order to his Indian allies to spare neither women nor children; who staged wild orgies in order to awaken a thirst for liquor and vice among his savage followers, as well as to satisfy his own consuming passions.

It was Butler who led the frigid raid on Cherry Valley, slaying non-combatants, white men, redmen, women and children without mercy. It was he who, when he commanded one of the Indians to do a foul deed from which even the savage recoiled, himself murdered his friend and ally with a tomahawk.

Gerald Beaumont's Racing Story Made Into Picture

"The Dixie Handicap," Reginald Barker's new production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which is coming to the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday, is a screen version of a story called "Dixie" by Gerald Beaumont that appeared in the Red Book Magazine.

It tells how the lost glory of an aristocratic Southern family was brought back by a horse and the young man who trained her. Full of the most thrilling incidents imaginable, and also possessing an unusually beautiful love angle, the story makes perfect screen material, Waldemar Young, who wrote the continuity for "The Dixie Handicap," was the adapter of "The Dixie Handicap."

We Think of Our Job as a Service

THE working man of today, going to work in his automobile, has more comforts and conveniences, than had the old-time emperors, compelled to slow locomotion in horse-drawn vehicles.

We are so accustomed to this state of affairs that we take it for granted. But this amazing development of modern times didn't just happen. It was achieved.

It was achieved in most part by men who thought of their job as a service—by men who were so obsessed by the idea of achievement—that they could not help but concentrate all the forces of their mind on wresting new secrets from Nature—creating new wealth—inventing new ways of doing things, or new methods of doing old things better.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been and is an important factor in bringing about the universal employment of the motor car, thus adding to the business efficiency, bettering the health, and increasing the contentment of all. The enterprise and thrift of this Company, energized by the earnest desire to serve, has brought petroleum products within the reach of everyone.

It was thinking of the job, rather than the pay; of the service, rather than the profit—which inspired members of this organization to develop that long list of advanced refining and marketing methods which have exerted such a profound influence upon the petroleum industry. It was planning for service to millions, which led to the establishment of gasoline storage depots, tank wagon routes, and service stations—throughout the Middle West.

If you would see this ideal of service in operation, note when you drive into a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service station the willingness, zeal and efficiency of the man who fills your gasoline tank or drains your crankcase. That man is not "on show". He is just one of thousands who have acquired the habit of thinking of his job as a service.

HIBBING GREET DISTRICT ROTARY ON APRIL 23, 24

"HIBBING IS YOURS" IS SLOGAN
ADOPTED FOR CON-VENTION

NINTH DISTRICT ROTARY CON- FERENCE TO BE HELD IN ORE CAPITOL

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 16—"Hibbing is Yours" for the ninth district Rotary conference, which will be held on April 23 and 24.

This is the slogan adopted by the Hibbing Rotarians in their efforts to make the April conference one of the biggest held in the Northwest.

Present indications are that the Hibbing meeting will break all conference attendance records. Reservations for the conference are already coming in.

The committee on accommodations announced today that there will be hotel room for everybody and although the railroads will provide sleepers, they may not be necessary as the hotel space in the ore capitol is ample enough to provide for a crowd of 2,000 people.

Since last December the general committees on the conference under the direction of A. C. Shimer have been working on the details. It has been a huge task but progress has been made and when the conference opens, Hibbing will be ready to show the Rotarians of North Dakota, Minnesota and Superior, Wisconsin, the greatest time of their lives.

The Speakers

The speakers engaged include men big in Rotary, Judge Martin Hughes, dean of court judges in Northern Minnesota, will be one of the speakers. Mayor John Gannon will welcome the guests. Edward F. Flynn, district governor, will preside. He will head the big Twin City delegation.

Paul King, director of Rotary International, will be one of the big away-from-home speakers. Clare Wildner, another big man in Rotary, is on the program, as is Herg Laflin, district governor from Madison, Wis. Other speakers will be announced within a few weeks.

The Entertainment

The entertainment will be enjoyed by every Rotarian and his wife, Miss Nora Fauchald, lyric soprano, with Sousa's band, will be one of the headliners. James A. Gillette, Carleton College organist, will feature several organ recitals. The Hibbing High School Orchestra will play. The Great Northern Quartette, from St. Paul, is coming.

The General Program

Thursday morning, on the opening of the conference, at the three million dollar Hibbing High School, one of the finest equipped community buildings in the northwest, the "Americanization Pageant" will be staged. It will be a history of the Mesaba Range, showing the steps whereby the Mesaba Range grew from its baby days to a modern metropolis. A class in naturalization and Americanization will graduate with appropriate ceremonies. This should be one of the inspiring features of the convention. The pageant is under the direction of the Hibbing Public Schools.

On Thursday evening the banquet will be held. This will be the gala event of the conference. Decorations for the occasion will be the most beautiful ever arranged at a district conference, the committee contends. On Friday afternoon there will be a trip through the mines, on flat cars, provided by the Oliver Iron Mining Co.

In addition to the above named features there will be a parade with several bands in line with Rotary clubs from the entire district participating. Visits to neighboring lakes and points of interest have been planned.

There will be plenty of entertainment for the ladies, including several programs, teas and receptions. The complete program will be announced within a few days.

Norma Shearer Appears With Her Favorite as Fan

Norma Shearer is having the opportunity to do something that would make any real movie fan turn green with envy. That is to play opposite her favorite leading man in a motion picture production.

Not so very long ago Miss Shearer was a fan herself. It was during her school days in Montreal, Canada, and she spent much time going to motion picture theatres. One day she saw a picture which she liked tremendously and she especially liked

Norma Shearer and Rupert Hughes' EXCUSE ME the young man who was playing the leading male role. She saw him again on the screen and noted his name was Conrad Nagel.

In "Excuse Me," Rupert Hughes' new production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which is now showing at the Lyceum Theatre, she plays the part of Marjorie Newton, and he is cast as Harry Mallory. The story was adapted by Rupert Hughes from his stage play and with Miss Shearer and Conrad Nagel playing the roles of the newlyweds, makes one of the finest screen comedies ever shown here. See it by all means tonight.

Unearthing the Revolution's Real Villain

Who was the greatest villain of the War of Independence?

No, contrary to the general belief, it was not Benedict Arnold, the traitor, but Walter Butler, the Tory.

Such was the conclusion of the staff of research experts which delved deep into Revolutionary history, into historical data, and even into private diaries of the period to get the authentic facts for "America," the romantic photodrama of the Revolution which D. W. Griffith produced, and which will be presented at the New Park tonight and Tuesday, at regular prices.

Traitor to his country though he was, Benedict Arnold had, previous to his act of treachery, fought bravely. History shows him to have been a man weak but tender, a man who could fight fairly, a man endowed with a goodly stock of what is known as "humanity."

But none of the saving graces vouchsafed by history to Arnold are conferred on Butler. Indeed, one historian, and a contemporary one, eye witness to some of the horrors perpetrated by Butler—declares categorically that Butler was a man "without a single redeeming trait."

It was Butler who advised the British securing the Indians as allies, and who, in order to accomplish this, when the peaceably inclined redskins declined to go on the warpath against the settlers, goaded them into it by massacring whole families of Indians and blaming the deed on the Americans.

It was Butler who gave the order

We Think of Our Job as a Service

THE working man of today, going to work in this automobile, has more comforts and conveniences, than had the old-time emperors, compelled to slow locomotion in horse-drawn vehicles.

We are so accustomed to this state of affairs that we take it for granted. But this amazing development of modern times didn't just happen. It was achieved.

It was achieved in most part by men who thought of their job as a service—by men who were so obsessed by the idea of achievement—of progress—that they could not help but concentrate all the forces of their mind on wresting new secrets from Nature—creating new wealth—inventing new ways of doing things, or new methods of doing old things better.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been and is an important factor in bringing about the universal employment of the motor car, thus adding to the business efficiency, bettering the health, and increasing the contentment of all. The enterprise and thrift of this Company, energized by the earnest desire to serve, has brought petroleum products within the reach of everyone.

It was thinking of the job, rather than the pay; of the service, rather than the profit—which inspired members of this organization to develop that long list of advanced refining and marketing methods which have exerted such a profound influence upon the petroleum industry. It was planning for service to millions, which led to the establishment of gasoline storage depots, tank wagon routes, and service stations—throughout the Middle West.

If you would see this ideal of service in operation, note when you drive into a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service station the willingness, zeal and efficiency of the man who fills your gasoline tank or drains your crankcase. That man is not "on show." He is just one of thousands who have acquired the habit of thinking of his job as a service.

to his Indian allies to spare neither women nor children; who staged wild orgies in order to awaken a thirst for liquor and vice among his savage followers, as well as to satisfy his own consuming passions.

It was Butler who led the frightful raid on Cherry Valley, slaying non-combatants, white men, redmen, women and children without mercy. It was he who, when he commanded one of the Indians to do a foul deed from which even the savage recoiled, himself murdered his friend and ally with a tomahawk.

Gerald Beaumont's Racing Story Made Into Picture

"The Dixie Handicap," Reginald Barker's new production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which is coming to the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday, is a screen version of a story called "Dixie" by Gerald Beaumont that appeared in the Red Book Magazine.

It tells how the lost glory of an aristocratic Southern family was brought back by a horse and the young man who trained her. Full of the most thrilling incidents imaginable, and also possessing an unusually beautiful love angle, the story makes perfect screen material, Waldemar Young, who wrote the continuity for "The Great Divide," was the adapter of "The Dixie Handicap."

FROLIC A SUCCESS

PLEASING ATTRACTIONS

Milk Fund to be Used in School Insured of Satisfactory Funds

The Frolic at the Lowell school on Saturday night was a success in every way. Many were there by seven o'clock and then they came so fast that W. C. Rasch door tender had all he could do to take care of them until the building was full.

All the various attractions were well patronized and especially the program given in the auditorium and the Jubilee Singers of the Lincoln school. The home-made candy and ice cream bars, booths and fish pond sold out first, while the grab bag and the variety booth was given proper attention. The beauty parlor made the crowd beautiful and Mrs. Jane Shields, the fortune teller, made them happy, while the novelty booths furnished the noise makers. It was a real frolic for adults as well as the children.

"Didn't charge enough" and "Was worth more than charged" were comments on the program and the Dixie Jubilee Singers.

The following is the program as given and special appreciation was given to Mrs. Hazel Cowan and Miss Rickard and also to Miss Edna Anderson for their numbers:

Piano solo—Miss Benson.
Reading—Marjory Forsberg.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Hazel Cowan, Minneapolis.

Dance—Boyle Zimmerman.
Vocal duet—Miss Cora Rickard and Mrs. Hazel Cowan.
Vocal duet—Misses Clarkson and Romain.

High School Glee Club.
Xylophone solo—O. M. Risberg.

Johnson-Risberg orchestra.

Play—"In Our Neighborhood."
Mrs. Schmidt—Mrs. J. H. Herbert.
Mrs. Jones—Mrs. F. M. Kelly.
Mrs. Kovok—Mrs. James Crust.

The committee in charge of the Frolic was Mrs. James Crust, chairman, Mrs. Hugo Kautz, Miss Mable Williams and Luella Austin wish to express their thanks to the merchants for their generous donations, to Mrs. Jane Shields and the Jubilee Singers; also to the Johnson-Risberg orchestra consisting of Louis Johnson, Gust Lind, H. O. Fossum, I. L. McCormick and O. M. Risberg who played many pretty selections; and to all others who contributed in any way towards making the evening a success and helping to raise the "milk fund" for the under-nourished children which is now assured as the receipts were very satisfactory and it is estimated that about 500 were in attendance.

LOWELL SCHOOL

FROLIC A SUCCESS

Crowd Commenced to Gather Early in Evening to Attend Entertainment

PLEASING ATTRACTIONS

Milk Fund to be Used in School Insured of Satisfactory Funds

The Frolic at the Lowell school on Saturday night was a success in every way. Many were there by seven o'clock and then they came so fast that W. C. Rasch door tender had all he could do to take care of them until the building was full.

All the various attractions were well patronized and especially the program given in the auditorium and the Jubilee Singers of the Lincoln school. The home-made candy and ice cream bars, booths and fish pond sold out first, while the grab bag and the variety booth was given proper attention. The beauty parlor made the crowd beautiful and Mrs. Jane Shields, the fortune teller, made them happy, while the novelty booths furnished the noise makers. It was a real frolic for adults as well as the children.

"Didn't charge enough" and "Was worth more than charged" were comments on the program and the Dixie Jubilee Singers.

The following is the program as given and special appreciation was given to Mrs. Hazel Cowan and Miss Rickard and also to Miss Edna Anderson for their numbers:

Piano solo—Miss Benson.
Reading—Marjory Forsberg.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Hazel Cowan, Minneapolis.
Dance—Beryl Zimmerman.
Vocal duet—Miss Cora Rickard and Mrs. Hazel Cowan.
Vocal duet—Misses Clarkson and Romain.
High School Glee Club.
Xylophone solo—O. M. Risberg.
Reading—Miss Edna Anderson.
Johnson-Risberg orchestra.
Play—"In Our Neighborhood."
Mrs. Schmidt—Mrs. J. H. Herbert.
Mrs. Jones—Mrs. F. M. Kelly.
Mrs. Kovak—Mrs. James Crust.

The committee in charge of the Frolic was Mrs. James Crust, chairman, Mrs. Hugo Kaatz, Miss Mable Williams and Luella Austin wish to express their thanks to the merchants for their generous donations, to Mrs. Jane Shields and the Jubilee Singers; also to the Johnson-Risberg orchestra consisting of Louis Johnson, Gust Lind, H. O. Fossum, I. L. McCormick and O. M. Risberg who played many pretty selections; and to all others who contributed in any way towards making the evening a success and helping to raise the "milk fund" for the under-nourished children which is now assured as the receipts were very satisfactory and it is estimated that about 500 were in attendance.

TO HANDLE ITS SOUTH AMERICAN GROWING BUSINESS

To facilitate the handling of increasing demands for Ford production in South America, the Ford Motor Company has established a new branch at Pernambuco, Brazil, a point on the Atlantic coast about 550 miles south of the equator.

A dealer organization is now being formed throughout the new branch territory. Consignments of Ford cars and trucks and Fordson tractors have been sent to Pernambuco from the branch at Sao Paulo and from the assembly plant at Kearny, N. J.

Pernambuco is the fifth Ford branch to be established in South America. The others are located at Sao Paulo, Brazil, Santiago, Chile, Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Montevideo, Uruguay.

DAILY DISPATCH WANTS Bring QUICK RESULTS

GIBBONS CONFIDENT HE CAN WHIP DEMPSEY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 16.—Tom Gibbons seems to be getting into the breaks at last after having had more bad luck than any other boxer of his prominence. Gibbons never complained about the breaks that went against him and perhaps that is the reason that fortune has turned for him.

Gibbons is signed to meet Jack Dempsey next summer in a return bout for the heavyweight championship and it is said that his agreement with Tex Rickard calls for $150,000. That is a lot of money. He also can get $50,000 or more before the indoor season closes if he decided to accept the offers that are pouring in on him.

Tom has never been in the big dough. His best chance was the gamble he took with the promoters at Shelby when he stood to get $150,000 as his share, but the show was ruined by bad management and he didn't get enough for his end to pay expenses.

Gibbons could have ducked out of Shelby and gone some other place with Dempsey for the fight, but he refused to do it. He could have gone back on the promoters in London last summer when they didn't have enough money to pay him his purse for fighting Jack Bloomfield, but he refused to do it.

"There's something else to this game than money," he said, when he was asked why he was willing to sacrifice so much rather than go back on his word. And he meant it. "Boxing is my business and it has been a good business for me. I haven't made as much money as some champions, but I've made enough to provide for myself and my family."

The one blot on his record was the fifteen-round decision that he lost several years ago to Harry Greb in Madison Square Garden and that was the result of bad luck.

Two weeks before the fight he went down with an attack of the flu and he was in no condition to fight when he came to New York. He didn't complain, however, and didn't even tell his manager that it was impossible for him to put up his best fight. He might have asked for a postponement, or could have demanded that the fight be called off, but he went through with it because he had given his word that he would.

That defeat by Greb cost him thousands of dollars because he had just worked up to the big money, only to have all his opportunities lost for more than a year. He didn't grumble or complain and he didn't alibi. "I'll get the breaks some time," he told his friends.

ILLINOIS TEAM WILL MEET PENNSYLVANIA

Eastern Fans to Get Chance to Watch Zuppke.

Pennsylvania versus Illinois! On October 31, 1925, Coach Robert Zuppke will lead Illinois into Philadelphia and give the East its long-expressed wish of seeing his team in action, when the Orange and Blue meet the University of Pennsylvania. The Red and Blue will play a return game at Illinois' Memorial stadium in 1926.

This announcement, answering the demand for a tussle of the Zupmen with a leading eastern team and the myriad questions of fans the country over as to which eleven would get the call, came from the office of George Huff, director of athletics.

After considering many offers which have been deluging Illinois from eastern teams, officials chose Penn, which at present is the only undefeated, non-titled team in that section, having rolled up 183 points to its opponents' 17. If the Red and Blue beats Penn State and Cornell the team can claim undisputed the eastern title. If the Orange and Blue close their season unwhipped the tilt, scheduled for a city convenient for Illinois alumni in the West, will assume proportions of a battle for national honors.

The last time the Illinois invaded the East was in 1909 to defeat Howard Jones' Syracuse eleven by a top-heavy score. But the East never has seen a Zuppke-coached team in action. Illinois was very willing to play the first game of the home-and-home series with the Quakers in their fair, because the 1925 list of home games at Illinois is well fortified by battles with Michigan and Chicago.

Connie Mack Searching for More Ball Players

Despite the fact that Connie Mack has been the busiest manager in the majors since the close of the 1924 season, it is hinted that he is not yet through.

In securing "Lefty" Groves from Baltimore and Catcher Cochrane from Portland, the Athletics purchased the costliest rookie battery in the history of the game.

Mack says he would like to pick up another hard-hitting outfielder who swats them from the right side of the plate. Rumor has it that he is willing to part with Frank Welch.

It is said Ty Cobb has made overtures for Welch, who rather disappointed Mack last season.

The status of Galloway at short is also rather unsettled. Mack has let it be known that he will listen to bids for that player.

John Levi, called "Charging Buffalo," fullback of the Haskell Indian football eleven, has signed a baseball contract with the New York Yankees. He is a right-handed outfielder.

Fix Attractive Display of Gridiron Delicacies

Saturday, October 17, 1925, will produce the most attractive display of gridiron delicacies ever scheduled for a single autumn afternoon. On that day not less than ten big games are carded. The two foremost contests include Notre Dame meeting with the Army at New York and Pennsylvania's game with Yale at New Haven. Other games scheduled are: Princeton-Navy at Annapolis, Syracuse-Indiana at Indianapolis, Columbia-Ohio State at Columbus, Colgate-Lafayette at Philadelphia, Penn State-Marietta at State College, Pa.; Detroit-Georgetown at Detroit and Bucknell's game with the Haskell Indians.

Five Big Leaguers From Illinois Team

University of Illinois has produced many famous athletes. In 1902 no less than five of its students went to big league baseball. Carl Lundgren, Jake Stahl, "Cy" Falkenberg, Fred Beebe and Higgins, who played for a short time with the St. Louis Cardinals. Then followed George Huff, the director of athletics, who was taken into the big show as manager of the Boston club. In 1901 and 1902 Illinois cleaned up from coast to coast.

CROSBY-IRONTON LAYS 1925 BASEBALL PLANS

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 16.—The Crosby baseball management and fans are preparing for another season. Several new prospective players now live on the range and have signified their intention of making a try for the team. Jack Schmidt will pilot the team again and play.

Last season the Crosby-Ironton team was a member of the Central Minnesota league. This year the fans do not seem to favor joining the league again for several reasons, one of which is that the Crosby-Ironton team had to make long jumps, while the other teams were all bunched near St. Cloud.

Another scheme presented is a league taking in Duluth, Superior, Moose Lake, Aitkin, Crosby-Ironton and Brainerd. Still another is to begin with Wadena and take in Staples, Brainerd, Crosby-Ironton and Little Falls, with possibly Aitkin. Either arrangement would make a well-balanced league.

Boston, Feb. 16.—Eddie Mahan, former Harvard star, regarded with Jim Thorpe and Red Grange as the greatest backs of all times, is engaged in business here. He is assistant football coach at Harvard and coach of the baseball team. He is still a fine physical specimen and can play football almost as good as he could in his varsity time.

RACE WAR OF ORIENT AND WEST PREDICTED

Berlin, Feb. 16.—A racial war, with the orient arrayed against Great Britain, France and America, was predicted by the Lokal Anzeiger today as an outgrowth of the recently completed treaty between Russia and Japan. China also subscribes to the treaty, the newspaper said, charging that the pact contained secret military and naval clauses. An offensive and defensive triple alliance of the three great oriental countries was the result, the newspaper said.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Menthosulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Menthosulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.—Adv.

Valuable Cotton Plant

GIBBONS CONFIDENT HE CAN WHIP DEMPSEY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 16.—Tom Gibbons seems to be getting into the breaks at last after having had more bad luck than any other boxer of his prominence. Gibbons never complained about the breaks that went against him and perhaps that is the reason that fortune has turned for him.

Gibbons is signed to meet Jack Dempsey next summer in a return bout for the heavyweight championship and it is said that his agreement with Tex Rickard calls for $150,000. That is a lot of money. He also can get $50,000 or more before the indoor season closes if he decided to accept the offers that are pouring in on him.

Tom has never been in the big dough. His best chance was the gamble he took with the promoters at Shelby when he stood to get $150,000 as his share, but the show was ruined by bad management and he didn't get enough for his end to pay expenses.

Gibbons could have ducked out of Shelby and gone some other place with Dempsey for the fight, but he refused to do it. He could have gone back on the promoters in London last summer when they didn't have enough money to pay him his purse for fighting Jack Bloomfield, but he refused to do it.

"There's something else to this game than money," he said, when he was asked why he was willing to sacrifice so much rather than go back on his word. And he meant it. "Boxing is my business and it has been a good business for me. I haven't made as much money as some champions, but I've made enough to provide for myself and my family."

The one blot on his record was the fifteen-round decision that he lost several years ago to Harry Greb in Madison Square Garden and that was the result of bad luck.

Two weeks before the fight he went down with an attack of the flu and he was in no condition to fight when he came to New York. He didn't complain, however, and didn't even tell his manager that it was impossible for him to put up his best fight. He might have asked for a postponement, or could have demanded that the fight be called off, but he went through with it because he had given his word that he would.

That defeat by Greb cost him thousands of dollars because he had just worked up to the big money, only to have all his opportunities lost for more than a year. He didn't grumble or complain and he didn't alibi. "I'll get the breaks some time," he told his friends.

ILLINOIS TEAM WILL MEET PENNSYLVANIA

Eastern Fans to Get Chance to Watch Zuppke.

Pennsylvania versus Illinois! On October 31, 1925, Coach Robert Zuppke will lead Illinois into Philadelphia and give the East its long-expressed wish of seeing his team in action, when the Orange and Blue meet the University of Pennsylvania. The Red and Blue will play a return game at Illinois Memorial stadium in 1926.

This announcement, answering the demand for a tussle of the Zupmen with a leading eastern team and the myriad questions of fans the country over as to which eleven would get the call, came from the office of George Huff, director of athletics.

After considering many offers which have been deluging Illinois from eastern teams, officials chose Penn, which at present is the only undefeated, notified team in that section, having rolled up 183 points to its opponents' 17. If the Red and Blue beats Penn State and Cornell the team can claim undisputed the eastern title. If the Orange and Blue close their season unwhipped the tilt, scheduled for a city convenient for Illinois alumni in the West, will assume proportions of a battle for national honors.

The last time the Illinois invaded the East was in 1909 to defeat Howard Jones' Syracuse eleven by a top-heavy score. But the Blue never has seen a Zuppke-coached team in action. Illinois was very willing to play the first game of the home-and-home series with the Quakers in their lair, because the 1925 list of home games at Illinois is well fortified by battles with Michigan and Chicago.

Connie Mack Searching for More Ball Players

Despite the fact that Connie Mack has been the busiest manager in the majors since the close of the 1924 season, it is hinted that he is not yet through.

In securing "Lefty" Groves from Baltimore and Catcher Cochrane from Portland, the Athletics purchased the costliest rookie battery in the history of the game.

Mack says he would like to pick up another hard-hitting outfielder who swats them from the right side of the plate. Rumor has it that he is willing to part with Frank Welch.

It is said Ty Cobb has made overtures for Welch, who rather disappointed Mack last season.

The status of Galloway at short is also rather unsettled. Mack has let it be known that he will listen to bids for that player.

John Levi, called "Charging Buffalo," fullback of the Haskell Indian football eleven, has signed a baseball contract with the New York Yankees. He is a right-handed outfielder.

Fix Attractive Display of Gridiron Delicacies

Saturday, October 17, 1925, will produce the most attractive display of gridiron delicacies ever scheduled for a single autumn afternoon. On that day not less than ten big games are carded. The two foremost contests include Notre Dames meeting with the Army at New York and Pennsylvania's game with Yale at New Haven. Other games scheduled are: Princeton-Navy at Annapolis, Syracuse-Indiana at Indianapolis, Columbia-Ohio State at Columbus, Colgate-Lafayette at Philadelphia, Penn State-Marietta at State College, Pa.; Detroit-Georgetown at Detroit and Bucknell's game with the Haskell Indians.

Five Big Leaguers From Illinois Team

University of Illinois has produced many famous athletes. In 1902 no less than five of its students went to big league baseball. Carl Lundgren, Jake Stahl, "Cy" Falkenberg, Fred Beebe and Higgins, who played for a short time with the St. Louis Cardinals. Then followed George Huff, the director of athletics, who was taken into the big show as manager of the Boston club. In 1901 and 1902 Illinois cleaned up from coast to coast.

CROSBY-IRONTON LAYS 1925 BASEBALL PLANS

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 16.—The Crosby baseball management and fans are preparing for another season. Several new prospective players now live on the range and have signified their intention of making a try for the team. Jack Schmidt will pilot the team again and play. Last season the Crosby-Ironton team was a member of the Central Minnesota league. This year the fans do not seem to favor joining the league again for several reasons, one of which is that the Crosby-Ironton team had to make long jumps, while the other teams were all bunched near St. Cloud.

Another scheme presented is a league taking in Duluth, Superior, Moose Lake, Aitkin, Crosby-Ironton and Brainerd. Still another is to begin with Wadena and take in Staples, Brainerd, Crosby-Ironton and Little Falls, with possibly Aitkin. Either arrangement would make a well-balanced league.

With the Oldtimers

(By United Press)

Boston, Feb. 16.—Eddie Mahan, former Harvard star, regarded with Jim Thorpe and Red Grange as the greatest backs of all times, is engaged in business here. He is assistant football coach at Harvard and coach of the baseball team. He is still a fine physical specimen and can play football almost as good as he could in his varsity time.

RACE WAR OF ORIENT AND WEST PREDICTED

Berlin, Feb. 16.—A racial war, with the orient arrayed against Great Britain, France and America, was predicted by the Lokal Anzeiger today as an outgrowth of the recently completed treaty between Russia and Japan. China also subscribes to the treaty, the newspaper said, charging that the pact contained secret military and naval clauses. An offensive and defensive triple alliance of the three great oriental countries was the result, the newspaper said.

CHAMPION POINTER DOG TRIES TO CLIMB TREE FOR BIRDS TIED THERE

Comanche Franks, champion pointer dog, owned by Charles G. Houston of Augusta, Ga., isn't balked at all by the fact that these birds have been tied in a tree. He is seen here standing up on his hind legs preparatory to pulling them down for his master.

Star Girl Athlete, Now a Mother, Continues Her Interest in Sports as Coach of Metropolitan Club

Above is pictured Mrs. Camille O'Hara who as Miss Desio was athletic director of Trinity College in Washington, D. C. She played on the basketball team that represented the Metropolitan Athletic Club in various inter-city games and taught swimming, basketball and other sports. Although she is now the mother of a baby girl, Mrs. O'Hara still finds time to attend to her household duties and assume her role as athletic coach.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Menthosulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Menthosulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.—Adv't.

Valuable Cotton Plant

A new kind of cotton, known as tanguls and immune to wilt, has come to the front in Peru. It is descended from a single plant, which stood perfect in an infected field and the seed from which produced other perfect plants true to type. It yields about 300 pounds to the acre.

Great Men's Friendship

Boccaccio, the great Italian novelist of the Fourteenth century, author of the famous "Decameron," was an intimate friend of the celebrated poet, Petrarch. His friend's death is said to have notably hastened Boccaccio's.
